Russians Again Assume the Offensive, Retaking Lost Positions by Brilliant Dashes Against the Foe and Capturing Many Guns from Their Japanese Defenders.

MUKDEN, Oct. 17-6.51 P. M .- Yesterday the Russians were not only successful on their right, but carried out some brilliant movements on the left, where they assumed an energetic offensive against the Japaness position at Soukhetung, southeast of Hun Pass.

Soukhetung is on the high road which runs to Bentsiaputze, joining the Mandarin road where the Hun River intersects it. It is a mile north of Hun Pass, which is four miles north of Shakhe. The Petrovskiy, Neuchlet and Wilminstrand Regiments stormed the Japanese trenches at Soukhetung and carried them after desperate resistance, capturing ten guns. The Japanese losses were enormous.

LONELY TREE HILL RECAPTURED. ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 17.—Gen, Sakharoff telegraphs that the Russians yesterday recaptured Lonely Tree Hill, south of Shakhe, and captured eleven Japanese guns and one quick-firer. Lonely Tree Hill is situated near Shakhe, about three miles west of the raticoad. The Shakhe River runs round its base. The Japanese seized the hill during the night of Oct. 15, overpowering the two Russian regiments which previously were in possession of it.

Russian reinforcements were hurried up and early the following morning opened a suctained artillery are. Subsequently the Russian infantry stormed the hill and florce fighting at close quarters followed. Numbers of Japanese were bayonetted in the trenches and ultimately the defenders were

"The fighting did not cease until this morning," Gen. Sakharoff continues. "The Japanese defended the hill with great stubbornness and accepted a bayonet attack, in which many of them perished. Our troops fought valiantly. The losses have not yet been ascertained. At the present, moment, 8 o'clock this morning, a desultory cannonade is proceeding along the whole of our position. BATTLE IS STILL ON.

Official reports received by the War Office, dated early this morning say the battle was resumed at daybreak to-day, that the Russians still hold the right bank of the Shakhe River, that the pressure on the Russian left has been relieved and that the cortest is continuing on the right, where the Japanese are still seeking to break through the Russian centre, evidently in order to get possession of the railroad and cut off the Russian army from

Gen. Kuropatkin is able to stand like a stone wall. The right wings of both sides are believed to be greatly exhausted by their long-sustained efforts. The main fear is that the unexplained quiet on the Russian left may presage some strategical stroke of which Kuropatkin has not yet been ap-
